

Peer Support Specialist

Are you looking to make difference in the lives of women and their families? ARC is looking for a full-time, skilled peer support specialist to join our fun, supportive, and dedicated team in providing person-centered, strengths-based, trauma-informed, recovery-oriented, co-occurring treatment services that are gender- and culturally-responsive for women (or those who identify as women) and their families (as they define them). In addition to providing co-occurring services ARC provides trauma treatment, child and family therapy, on-site therapeutic childcare, parenting education, case management, and pre-natal care coordination. ARC offers a good work-life balance, generous benefits, and a supportive team.

The Peer Support Specialist is a critical part of our treatment team and is responsible for supporting women in their path to recovery, facilitating groups, and advocating on behalf of the women we serve. ARC is looking for an experienced, organized, responsible and personable individual with the ability to engage women with high needs. Peer Specialist Certification, or ability to obtain, are required. Free clinical supervision will be provided for those working towards obtaining certification. People with lived experience and/or those from historically marginalized groups are encouraged to apply.

ARC offers competitive salary ($34,000) and a generous benefits package including: health, dental and vision insurance package where agency pays 80% of premiums, generous paid time off (3 weeks paid vacation the first year-increases each year after), 10 paid sick days, 12 paid holidays, disability and life insurance, 401(k) with employer contribution, paid training and continuing education, supervision to obtain licensure or certification, and a flexible work schedule (general schedule is Monday-Friday, 8-4pm). During the pandemic, staff are working both from home and in the office. This is a limited term position through March of 2023 and may be extended beyond that.

Employment at ARC may be eligible for Public Service Loan Forgiveness:
